

IN A BALL

How come a car + those me and just waiting on the Blvd + the kids they've been to all those places you always hear about + they'll forget your face when they let you out In a ball, is where I saw it all with the things that were should've happened about happening again + again He said, "I owe you all a big apology for blaming you for me, but I gotta get it out again to set myself free." And we sang, "It's okay cause you've all been going in with only time to spend." Unlike the code, there's more to know When you've reached the end of knowing what you'll see never know. I received a letter in a stranger's hand, it said you don't have to understand, just know
- that you can never pin on anything In a ball, is where I saw it all, with the things that were really happened about happening again + again. And when to fog let up + I could see a bunch of people around me + someone was singing down the street a song that I'll repeat + you know the song, "It's good to be living again, it's good to be alive again, it's good to be living again with only time to spend."

LOVE EVERYBODY

I always wanted to love everybody like Baby Eros up in the air. I always wanted to love everyone in the world without Nemesis standing there. Time + time if seems to me the people you loved will + free they come back in town. She saw "God the humans are". The stadium the fog, the fun, looking for love every last one, it's a wind up of me + you + it's Then there are those who like the look down an alley, and through a trap door. No one wants to die in the streetlight when they're on the back nine. She always wanted to love everybody but he said that it wouldn't be fair. She always wanted to love everyone in the world with some flowers up in her hair.
I always wanted to love everybody, always wanted us all to be there, I always wanted to love everyone in the world, is He really up in a chair?

HEY DOLL

Furrah, did you go away? Down switchbocker of a mountain's face? Come back! That's the thing to do. A midnight train, coming through.
Furrah, where are you today? Somewhere else in time + space. I'm cleaning out. A poster of you rolled tight scattered through + through. Hey Doll looking at the smile upon your face, Hey Doll, for a second see the world fall into place.
Hey Doll, is it just the same? Furrah, where did you go today? It's somewhere out into there, open space off board. Raise a drink, someone she will too. Hey Doll, can you put me up in outer space? Hey Doll, can you put it back into a face? Hey Doll, can you put it back into its place? Hey Doll, looking at the smile upon your face, Hey Doll, for a second tell the world fall into...

HIGHWAY

We were standing out in the rain, talking about Lorraine, back before she went where living in the skyway. It was something about the rain, falling down on the plane, like a shower to my brain spinning all day. I'm on the highway, and I'm headed home. I'm on the highway cause I needed to be alone. They were carrying into the song, back in New Orleans in the dawn, they were bringing it out, taking you somewhere more than. I was singing about the bands, we were bringing it out to resign, they were dancing about it, singing somewhere in my way. I'm on the highway, I'm headed home. I'm on the highway, cause I needed to be alone.

SEX DAY

It's Monday, no it's still Sunday, Friday & Saturday too we wait for Sex Day. It's Tuesday, having the flu... day, but my baby makes me feel alright we make it Sex Day. Do you feel alright? (you're feel alright) Do you feel alright? (uh huh it feels right) Who feel alright! My baby, she rides a white horse, in the morning she gallops away until next Sex Day. On Wednesday, having some drinks day, the television trying to tell me that it's Sex Day. Do you feel alright? (No we don't feel right) Do you feel alright? (no no it doesn't feel right) We don't feel alright! The coffee shaped like a dolphin, his friends are playing koto that his favorite day was Sex Day. If I see you out on the town, we can always act like we never heard of Sex Day. Do you feel alright? (I think we feel a little better) Do you feel alright? (Uh huh it feels right) We feel alright!

B.A. STRANGER

I tried to tell you what I was gonna do when we got home. And on the next night at the cat fight, we were both thrown to... It was not you, it was the men in black that could never be alone. And on the last day, it was just a Betathon in the way a no antenna wall. And you say don't be a stranger, but to you, that's all I'll ever be. Don't be a stranger. I was left there in the corporation logo waiting to get lost, in the mirror I saw a black & tanned chicken fa-ome, but you say, it's not the way that we play, it's just a song. But the truth is, I'm back in youth & I'm coming, I'm coming along. And you say don't be a stranger. But to you, a stranger is all I'll ever be. Don't be a stranger. The next night, we tamer & coming home wanted on the phone. How well do it, how you know it has to be, & nothing more.

your own life. open it if you dare, & the way that box anywhere, but only you have today to save... you can stretch, for skin to hang upon. (Kekone in my room, stretched in dance, diving in a box of kane. ampuhose, but only open it if you dare. Full of nothing strange, yeah, placed for the haunted house in me. Found over me. Diving up a healthy home during in a house of kane. Foot all around away. Award eyes.

STRAIT OF ANIAN

you've got nothing to think about & you tried to dream about the Strait of Anian. And your friends have forgotten you & you're kind of forgotten them too to the Strait of Anian. When these closed doors start opening again... And no one can do it for you. When these closed doors start opening my friend...

BOX OF BONES

around away. Award eyes.

GUIDED EYES

TOOTH FAIRY

We was eating a Milkyway on the dock by the bay. Nestle on & Rose die each in the middle of the day. Looking out across the bay, of a Bwana in the way. You were seeing on his face, that's when it start to say. Hey, you know it's good to see you, wow, how it's been, you know it's been a long time... You said these summer days, when you were coming up & I was " He said, "I'm the Tooth Fairy."

We were both both happy & sad then. It was back before the war no time just because. We were sitting by the bay, in a deep hole by the bay, now you know it's good to see you, hey, we know there were deep holes... Coming around, " He said now, "I'm the Tooth Fairy."

THE SEA

The sea, where it's supposed to be, the sea, pushing outwards in for something to be, the sea, lay down, gather around, it's so much deeper than me. The sea, it's a place you can be, cementing in your mind on strings of time, coming closer than anything can be, the sea. I'm lost in, indistinct, rocking on the indoor mind, it's just real time, there's no one waiting at the mailbox for me. We're just this strange embassy. It's closing time, down the street, for the last time & that's your carpenter, coming back to me. The abyss of Monterey you climb, stepped into your jelly mind, fragments of a long lost time, ruined ships & splomb kinds, in & through the sea. Down Oppenheim's twisted vine, a mushroom that will blow your mind, put it down into the brine, a man & mermaid intertwined, skating on the sea. A fleet of ships up in the sky, surfers carving out the night, upon a mountain house of lights, bats curling from a copper mine, dripping on the sea. Pick yourself up off the floor, don't think about it anymore, get yourself up out the door & free your mind.

BLUE DEVIL

you get out into the night, the stars they're shining bright, you never know what you may find for you tonight.
Oh south angel, you turn into blue devil.
Johnny Angel in teenage wasteland.
